

Custom Simulations from Focus EduVation

At focus EduVation, we have two options for delivering custom simulations. The first option is an upfront project fee for two levels: Gold and Platinum. The second option is a subscription package for the Gold and Platinum levels. Both options include the full Design and Build, Warranty/Support, and Implementation or Hosting Services. Custom reporting is standard with all our simulation products, however for our premium customers, we offer an administrative console with a customized authoring interface that enables the modification of various features, assets and assignments within each simulation. Focus EduVation's simulations can be custom designed with any combination of text, audio, animation and video to meet specific learner outcomes.

Our Process

At Focus EduVation, we custom design all simulations after engaging the faculty or the subject matter experts. The process entails creating wireframes, designing custom interfaces, and creating scenarios to specifically address the needs of the curriculum.

Our Approach

Our approach to designing the simulations is flexible and collaborative. We work with your faculty to access the course content and resources required to assist the simulation designers at Focus EduVation. If necessary, we can also provide our own subject matter experts.

Our Team

With Focus EduVation you have the advantage of work with a team experienced in meeting faculty expectations during and after the simulation design and development phase.

Our Rationale

Simulations are the most adept tool for enhancing and monitoring the level of student engagement in online or hybrid courses.

Our Promise

All our instructional design services, including training, warranty, and support are free for the duration of the subscription. And rest assured, you will always own your intellectual property.
